Access Display Group Makes Inc. 5000 for A Fifth Year

Access Display Group, a Leading Company in Changeable Frames and Signage Display Systems Ranks Overall No 3193 for 2013

Freeport, New York., October 18, 2013

Access Display Group, Inc. a changeable display frames and B2B display fixture manufacturing company has been named, for the fifth year in a row, by Inc. Magazine to its annual list of fastest growing companies in America.

The Inc. 5000 list recognizes private companies that have achieved the nation's strongest three-year median revenue growth. Access Display Group received the No.3193 spot on the Inc. 2013 list.

"Five consecutive years of qualifying for Inc.'s list of fastest-growing companies is an incredible achievement that everyone in our growing company can take pride in," said Charles Abrams, President of Access Display Group (ADG). "I'm proud to lead a dedicated, hard working team, and we're honored to receive this national recognition."

Access Display Group, founded in 1992, can attribute its growth, especially in the last five years, by focusing most of its marketing efforts in offering an array of its own manufactured display fixtures as well as display products through a network of reliable vendor partners throughout North America. These products are offered in multitude of B2B e-commerce websites developed and maintained by ADG.

Craig Abrams, Director of Marketing and Sales states "We see opportunities in expanding our in-house customization as well as offering more custom products from our vendors to specifically to meet our customer needs. We've also made a number of strategic decisions and investments recently to expand our future E-commerce marketing efforts.

"We continue to take pride in creating a unique product within the of signage display fixture industry. Our SwingFrame products continue to generate more sales and brings in a diversity of design projects from wide-ranging industries including national and global corporations, financial institutions, medical centers, restaurants, hotels and resorts, entertainment and sports centers, military facilities, local, state and federal government agencies" says Charles Abrams founder of the company.

Mr. Abrams started the company with a patented swing open, quick changing frame and display system for posters, signage and dimensional items. Branded as "SwingFrame", this versatile and customizable system has unlimited design possibilities that attracts visual merchandisers, interior designers, architects, purchasing agents and buyers --all with different applications and design requirements.

Access Display Group receives the majority of its sales throughout North America with a small but growing international segment. The SwingFrame product lines, including SwingFrame Poster Frames and Poster Displays, Designer Cork Bulletin Boards and Enclosed Bulletin Boards, SwingFrame Shadow Boxes, Backlit and LED Light Boxes, Changeable Letter Boards, result in 45% of sales with other diverse lines of changeable frames and displays; slide-in signage frames, poster snap frames, outdoor display cases; wall mount display cases and free-standing swinging multi-panel poster displays and art displays and other fixtures comprising the rest of the sales. This broad range of changeable signage frames and displays offers many unique and cost effective solutions to any industry's marketing, communications and display fixture needs.
